WHO WE ARE

We understand the challenges that come with outsourcing production to fabric mills, which is why we cut out the middle man: At Zuni, we ARE the mill. This grants us, and subsequently our customers, access to beautiful products at an exceptional price, as well as a deep inventory for at-once delivery.

Making great clothes isn't valuable unless our customers can get their goods quickly, which is why we strive to ship all of our orders out same-day. We offer same-day delivery to our customers in Los Angeles and Orange County.

Let's create something truly unique together: Zuni's customer service representatives are knowledgeable and committed to make your buying experience with us fun and hassle-free.

SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

AT ZUNI SPORTSWEAR OUR FACTORIES ARE

Safe:

We provide a safe and comfortable work environment, which exceeds globally recognized standards. As a family company, we strive to ensure that every facility we own, no matter it's geographical location, is held to the same standards of health and safety regulation.

Green:

Zuni has a passion not just for beautiful garments, but also a beautiful and sustainable environment. We are committed to the use of renewable energy as well as a prevention of pollution at all of our facilities. Recycling and reuse of raw materials allows us to not only waste less, but cut cost even more for our customers.

Ethical:

Our factories support their workers by paying a living wage, far above required minimums in certain locations. Being against discrimination is more than just a credo at Zuni; we hold every single one of our facilities to the same standards of equity, and we strongly oppose forced labor, child labor, racism, discrimination, exploitation, or unfair standards of it's workers for any reason.

Empowering:

At Zuni, we have made a conscious effort to empower women, who have statistically fought harder in many industries than their male counterparts. We continue to employ assertive programs to hire, train, and promote women in the workforce. We believe that this effort is necessary and valuable, and we also believe it's what would make Zuni herself proud.
